

Annisa Lee

Head of Asia ex-Japan Flow Credit Analysis

Annisa Lee is a Managing Director and the Head of Asia ex-Japan Flow Credit Analysis. She covers the Asian high yield sector including mining, industrial and utilities companies within the region.

She joined Nomura Securities in October 2008 from Lehman Brothers, where she had a similar coverage.

Annisa was ranked 2nd in the individual analyst category in The Asset Magazine in 2016 and was ranked top 10 for more than three consecutive years. The Nomura Credit Analyst team was ranked 3rd in FinanceAsia's fixed-income poll in 2013-2014 and 4th in 2015.

Prior to joining Lehman Brothers in 2005, Annisa was a fixed income analyst at ING Securities, covering both high grade and high yield companies.

Annisa holds a bachelor degree in political science from the University of Hong Kong and an MBA from The Chinese University of Hong Kong.