

David Matty

Head of LATAM Corporate Credit Trading
Nomura

David Matty is head of LATAM Corporate Credit Trading at Nomura and has over 20 years experience in Emerging Markets.

Prior to joining Nomura in May 2016, David spent eight years at JP Morgan focusing on HY and Distressed Flow Trading and Investing. Prior to that, David spent ten years at Bear Stearns, two years at Deutsche Bank trading in the Global Distressed group and two years at Lehman reporting to both US Distressed and the Emerging Markets group.

David has helped successfully create, grow and manage sales/trading and research groups within each of these previous organizations.

David has a BA and and MBA from Union College.