

Jonathan Wheatley

Deputy Emerging Markets Editor
Financial Times

Jonathan Wheatley is Deputy Emerging Markets Editor at the Financial Times and Editor of EM Squared, the FT's premium online service offering data-driven analysis of issues across emerging markets, written by a team of emerging markets and data specialists.

He also oversees beyondbrics, the FT's guest forum on emerging markets written by contributors from the worlds of business, finance, politics, academia and the third sector.

He writes about emerging markets across the FT and is a frequent contributor to FT videos and podcasts.

Jonathan has a particular interest in Latin American, having lived in Brazil between 1991 and 2011 where he wrote for the FT and others, reporting from the country and around the region.

Jonathan joined the FT full time in 2005. He previously worked in London in television news and current affairs.