

Joseph Mezrich

Head of US Quantitative Analysis
Instinet

Joe Mezrich has been Managing Director, Head of Quantitative Strategy, at Nomura Securities International January 2006, and at Instinet since the beginning of 2013.. He was previously Managing Director, Head of US Quantitative & Derivatives Research at UBS, in that role from 2002. From 1998 to 2002 he was Head of Quantitative Strategies/Quantitative Strategist at Morgan Stanley. From 1987 to 1998 he was deputy head of the Equity Portfolio Analytics group at Salomon Brothers. Joe received the PhD in Mathematical Psychology and MA in Statistics from the University of Michigan, and received the EE and the SM degrees in Electrical Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.